Elect Cadet Committee At Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Wainwright branch of the Navy League of Canada was held at the Town stannance of interested parents Hall, Thursday, October 14th. A fair was noted and it is hoped to see more turn out in the interest of their children next time.

Mr. J. MacKenzie acting as Chairman started with a preamble on the past year's activities. It is to be noted that there are approximately 15 boys now holding the St. John Badge in First Aid, three of whom hold the Senior certificate. One boy has earned his crossed flags in signalling for which the Navy gives a bonus of $10.00. Several parties were held, an annual dance and several trips to the lake for boat work. The boys had an excellent annual inspection report and were especially noted for their seamanship.

The present staff consists of C.O. L. C. Cronie; Ex-Officer Lt. E. Wilson; Paymaster-Lt. J. Humphries; Training Officer Lt. G. Garner and Divisional Officer Mr. Ledue. Middleman R. Ludue then gave a report of the Camp held at the coast.

After the reports there was an election of the new staff committee. Those elected were: Chairmen H. Tuckey; Committee Members: Mr. Armstrong, Sec. Treas. Mr. MacGregor, Mr. E. Mitchell, Mr. E. Turner, Mr. J. MacKenzie and Cpl. Pound.

Scientist Says Trees Can Yield Whisky and Food

New York—A tree to Dr. Robert S. Aris is a good drink of whisky, nylon stockings, an ink-remover and food on the table.

With a little chemical magic, these are new things that can be made from wood. What's more they all can be produced from the wastes when wood is turned into lumber or into pulp for paper.

Dr. Aris, a consulting chemical engineer and research associate at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, has developed methods of doing these things, and more. Some were developed in co-operation with Dr. Donald F. Othmer, head of the Institute's chemical engineering department.

One process will make 50 gallons of good ethyl (drinking) alcohol from a ton of sawdust, he says. Each gallon would cost only one-third as much as a gallon of alcohol from grain.

Drinks couldn't tell the difference, he declares. A bottle of whisky could bear the label "made from wood, aged in wood" for wood shavings could be used to speed up the aging process.

One hurdle to be jumped first, however, is a change in United States government regulations to permit sale of whiskies from wood. If that were done, Dr. Aris said, a plant could easily be started to make 10,000,000 gallons of alcohol, enough for 25,000,000 gallons of whisky, from 200,000 tons of sawdust annually, about 20,000,000 tons are wasted every year.

The nylon stockings would come from furfural, a chemical used not only in making the stockings, but plastics, insecticides, and other products and in refining petroleum. Most of the 30,000 tons of furfural used annually are derived now from oat hulls and corn cobs.

What To Do!

You may call a woman a kitten, But you must not call her a cat; You may call her a house, But you must not call her a rat; You may call her a chicken, But you must not call her a hen; You may call her a duck, But you must not call her a goose; You may call her a vision, But you must not call her a sight.

Dr. Aris has a process to make furfural from certain sugars in wood. These sugars come from part of the cellulose in trees. That particular part of the cellulose in soft woods doesn't make good paper pulp. But it can be converted into pentose sugars, and then chemically treated to produce furfural, he said. Two pulp mills in England and Italy now are using the process, and American companies are interested, he added.

Tree bark is one of the big wastes of saw mills and pulp mills. Dr. Aris has a new ingenious use for the bark. From it he extracts a chemical that can take the ink out of newspaper. This new chemical is cheaper than chemicals now used to de-ink newspaper, he said. The de-inking is a big and important business due to the high cost and big demand for paper. The bark can save trees by meeting some of the demand for paper.

In pulp mills, one of the biggest headaches is disposing of the waste products. One is sulfate liquor, the brew left over from chemicals used to extract the cellulose from wood. The second big waste is lignin, the chemical cement that holds the cellulose together in the wood. Big amounts of these two wastes pollute rivers and streams. The obvious is to find some use for the wastes, and turn them into profit.

By letting bacteria feed on the waste liquor, they can be converted into yeast and proteins, and even into vitamins. Dr. Aris says. As a source of B vitamins, wood yeast is rivalled only by liver; and by irradiation, the yeast can also be made a source of vitamin D.

Varda and Irene Aasen spent the long week-end visiting their parents Jeanette Cornfield also returned for the holiday.

Two Couples Honored By Residents of Wainwright District

More than 150 residents from the Pacific Coast. The honored guests at the reception in Wainwright were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Spencer, of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Sanders, of Irma. Both families moved into the district many years ago by oxen and cart and since that time have played a valuable part in the progress of the district. Left to right they are, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer.

District Couple Wed Last Friday Was In Anglican Church Accident Night

Friday night, October 15th, will be remembered by many people as the night of a double accident on the highway west of Wainwright. The first accident occurred about 9:45 p.m., between a truck owned and driven by Mr. E. Fenton of Irma and an Army vehicle 1500 cwt. from the Wainwright Camp.

Mr. Fenton was travelling east, following another truck and was about to overtake the vehicle when he noticed an approaching jeep. Mr. Fenton pulled his truck back to the right side of the road, but it was apparently not soon enough, as the Army vehicle was upon him, hitting the left rear wheels of the truck and knocking them from under the vehicle. This caused the Fenton truck to swerve, slipping crosswise on the road, tying up traffic for more than two hours. It is thought that due to the dusty condition of the highway at this time of day that visibility was very poor. Damage to the Fenton truck will be approximately $200 and to the Army vehicle $100.

One soldier occupied of the Army jeep suffered a broken arm and was immediately rushed to medical attention.

Another accident at the same scene and just a little later happened on the same night. Mr. Oscar Likness of the Irma district stopped at the scene of the previous accident, being unable to proceed due to traffic being tied up. He parked his 1940 Mercury at the side of the road leaving the parking light on.

Here again the atmosphere was very dusty and a 1945 International truck driven by Jim Curtis, not seeing the 1940 Mercury in time side-swiped the car causing extensive damage. The left side of the car was completely demolished with damage running near to the $500.00 mark. Little damage was done to the truck. No persons were injured and no insurance was carried on the car.

WEDDING BELLS

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday, October 16th, at 8:30 p.m., when Mrs. Alice McKinnon and Mr. Belmer Paulson both of Deroche, B.C., were united in holy matrimony. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Richard Loberg of Macklin, Sask.

Rev. F. E. Smith officiated at the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Paulson will make their home at Cedar.

CHAUVIN N WAINWRIGHT CHURCHES TO HOLD SOCIAL EVENING

St. Andrew's Presbyterian and Westminster Presbyterian Church of Chauvin are holding a combined get-together musical evening on Tuesday, October 26 at 8:30 p.m. in St. Andrew's Church, Wainwright. The programme will include musical numbers by Chauvin Church Choir, Community Singing, Colored Movie Film as well as Still Pictures. Lunch will be served. All are cordially invited.

Varda and Irene Aasen spent the long week-end visiting their parents Jeanette Cornfield also returned for the holiday.

Mrs. M. Johansen Dies In Edmonton

There passed away in an Edmonton hospital on Thursday, October 15th, Mrs. Muriel Johansen, wife of Mr. Peter M. Johansen, who had been under medical care for some time and last Monday went to Edmonton for further treatment and died quite suddenly as stated previously.

The deceased was born in Lidlow, New Brunswick, September 12, 1901 and later came west to live. In June 1934 she married Mr. Peter Johansen and they have resided in Wainwright and district since that time.

The funeral took place on Friday, October 16, from the Pentecostal Church with Rev. Rosenko officiating. McLeod's funeral parlors were in charge of arrangements with the following acting as pallbearers: Messrs. Jack Renwick, Dave Dundas, Tom Kile, W. Baynham, Dade Jan and Fred Church. Interment took place in the Wainwright cemetery.

Following floral tributes of remembrance were received: Mrs. Loving Husband; C.B. of R.E.; Miss Lilian Ryben; The Boys at the Shop; afternoon and night shifts; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. W. Hartley; Mr. and Mrs. Baynham; Mr. and Mrs. D. McCaffrey; Railway Carmen No. 1449; Chris. May and Mrs. Jones and family; Mr. and Mrs. Kile and family; J. K. Thompson; Mr. and Mrs. D. Dundas and sons.

Widowed Farmer Watches Family of 11 Children

Irvin, Pa.—When Fred Hohman's wife died four years ago, leaving him with 11 young children, everyone asked how he would manage—everyone, that is, except Hohman and the children.

"You'll have to put them in a home, Fred," they said. "How can I manage them and mother to so many youngsters?"

But the would-be advisers didn't figure on Hohman's mettle. Nor on his deep love for his children, the youngest of whom was two.

"I couldn't give them up," he explained. "Besides, Anna, my wife, wouldn't have wanted it."

So Hohman, a farmer who earned a living by cattle-dealing and running his 90 acres, rolled up his sleeves. After four years, the family is stronger than ever—and here's how they did it:

The oldest son, Fred, now 18, already had quit school and was working. Pops took his second son, 17-year-old Bill, out of school to do

Farewell Banquet for Spencers and Sanders Prior to Their Leaving

More than 150 persons, coming from half a dozen points surrounding Wainwright enjoyed food and song and then praised and cheered Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Spencer of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Sanders, of Irma, at a banquet held in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Friday evening, October 16, in recognition of their initiative and personal contribution in community service to the Wainwright area and the people of Alberta generally.

Both couples, having enjoyed life in this prosperous district since pioneer days and having served in a number of public offices, are leaving for new homes in British Columbia. Behind them they leave a country they greatly helped develop.

The esteem in which they are held throughout the large Wainwright municipality was wholeheartedly exhibited here Friday. It was a spontaneous gesture of goodwill on the part of residents over more than a 40-mile area.

Voicing of their goodbyes and good wishes at a banquet in Wainwright was truly a signal honor to the Spencers and Sanders by the friends they have made in this district over the years. The Spencer family comes from Edgerton, 20 miles to the east of Wainwright and the Sanders from Irma, about the same distance to the west.

Sincere Messages Thus, the travelling by their many friends to this central point, the many plain but from-the-heart messages they received to take with them on their new venture was a greater reward to the departing couples than they had expected.

This belief they expressed as they replied in brief words of deep appreciation, enjoying to the fullest these last few hours before departing to new homes in B.C.

The history of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and that of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders is similar to that of many of the pioneer stock who settled in Alberta's hinterland at the turn of the century.

They came here by oxen and cart. They settled and worked. They gave of their time not only to their families but to the district as a whole. Today, as they take a last look over the rich grain bearing country-side, they leave with pride in their hearts because they did something to help along it.

Besides settling on land here and becoming agriculturists, Mr. and Mrs. Spencers' affiliations included: the senate of the University of Alberta, department of education, curriculum committee and teacher training committee, Canadian School Teachers Association, United Farmers of Alberta, Wainwright school division, municipal district of Wainwright, Edgerton co-operative store, Alberta Wheat Pool, United Grain Growers, Edgerton credit union, McCaffrey local of the U.F.W.A., McCaffrey rural telephone system, McCaffrey school board, the G.T.P. livestock shipping association.

Not to be overlooked are the cooking. The rest helped out with such chores as: bed-making, sweeping, milking the cows. They are Daniel 16, Kitty 15, Mary Ann 13, Clara 12, Blanche 11, Twiss Myrtle and Margaret 6, Frank 9, Bob 6.

The only outside help they had was Hohman's sister-in-law Mrs. Celia Stidder, who drops in on Mondays to do the washing and maybe on a Thursday or Saturday to bake pies and see that all the children take their baths. Aunt Celia is comely and wholesome. She coaxes the children to "be like your mother would want."

They're really wonderful," she beamed. "They can do anything you tell them to. They are used to helping one another. Of course, sometimes I have to scold—but not very often."

With school about to open, Aunt Celia sat down to a sewing machine and turned out some slips and dresses for the girls to wear. The dresses were made over from clothing given them by friends and relatives.

"You never saw any children crazier about their dad. There are always one or two climbing all over him. He is forever joking with them. For all his pleasantry, he makes them do the work. He doesn't let them go wandering off to fall in with dubious companions. He makes it his business to stick round the home, too. For a change of air, he'll pile a bunch of them into the car for a coast or perhaps there's a fair in town, or it's time for a picnic."

Dad doesn't forget to bring home the goodies. "They get more water-melons, ice cream and candy than any other kids in the country," said Aunt Celia.

"It costs $20 a day to feed this gang of eleven sitting. They polish off five pies at one sitting."

Eleven young, happy, healthy faces back him up.

Mr. & Mrs. E. Lane Feted at Farewell

Approximately 25 married couples of the younger set in Wainwright, gathered at the L.O.O.F. Hall on Wednesday night last, October 15th, to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lane who are leaving the district.

The party was a complete surprise to the Lanes, they were brought to the hall by a few friends and on entering were amazed to find so many people.

The evening was spent in reminiscing old times, dancing and singing. Lunch was prepared and served by those in attendance.

At intermission Dr. J. D. Wallace presented to Mr. and Mrs. Lane an electric mantle clock, carrying the traditional anchor of the navy, Earl having served in that branch of the service during the war. Dr. Wallace spoke briefly of the association that he and the others had had with the Lanes, and stated that they would be missed greatly.

One unique feature of this farewell was the making of two records, which were presented to the departing couple. This consisted of singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Happy Birthday," as it also happened to be Mr. Lane's birthday anniversary on that date. Many people of the gathering took the microphone in hand and bade the guests goodbye. As Earl was a member of the Wainwright Ball Club during the past year, many of his former ball players associated spoke briefly on their happy associations with him. Visitors in attendance came from as far as Ribstone, whom Earl had played baseball either with or against.

Mr. Lane left Wainwright to take employment in Wetaskiwin. He will be followed by Mrs. Lane shortly, as soon as their home at that point becomes ready for occupancy.

Adult Evening Classes To Organize Soon

According to an advertisement to be found on page four of this issue, the Adult Education course which proved so popular last year, are to resume in the near future.

The organizational meeting to get the courses underway will be held on Monday, October 26th. It is hoped that a large turnout will be on hand to partake in the organizing of the courses for the winter season. Many people enjoyed the handicrafts last year, and some of the best work was displayed at the end of the term.

It was not unusual to see ladies taking part in the construction of a book stand, now was it unusual to see men typing away at a typewriter. All of these hobbies are for the betterment of the individual concerned. The instructors are capable persons who have had a wide experience.

If you are interested in any hobby that might be made into a class, attend this meeting. More details on page 4.

Joint Teachers Convention Planned This Fall

Last year the teachers of the three Divisions—Wainwright, Vermilion and Vegreville decided to hold a joint convention at Vermilion. It was so successful that it was decided to continue it indefinitely.

The larger convention makes it possible to secure more and better speakers, to have larger discussion groups, etc.

This year the convention is being held on Thursday and Friday of this week—October 21 and 22. Chartered buses will run from all parts of the three Divisions to Vermilion.

The Vermilion School of Agriculture is an ideal place for such a convention. There is space in the classrooms for numerous discussion groups. The Assembly Hall is used for general sessions. Room and meals may be obtained in the College buildings.

The President for the 1948 Convention is Mr. Jas. A. Smith of Kitco, a Past President of the Alberta Teachers' Association. The Secretary is Mr. S. Olanson, Principal at Manville school.

WHERE ART THOU, OH PROVOST

It would appear that Wainwright is to become a military town, with a very large military camp at its back door to the south. We are pleased to have this industry added to our business sections, but during the past summer the relationship between the civilians of Wainwright's streets and some of the soldiers stationed at the Wainwright camp leaves much to be desired.

Now don't take us wrong, for we know quite a few military personnel and have found them to be one of the finest bunch that you could wish to meet. On the other hand there is always present the element which brings disgrace to its regiment, and for the military as a whole camp. It is unfortunate that this has to be, but what is so, is so and no amount of persuasion will change the fact. Nor does this only apply to one branch of military service. It is true of army, navy and air force alike. We have met this undesirable element in our military experience and have shared their association promptly.

On the other hand Wainwright has experienced one of the most up-set summers in its history. At this time the residents are feeling the experience of living in the atmosphere of a "Little Chicago", while actually trying to live in a peaceful western town of 1700 persons. In most instances of trouble the Army personnel have not been to blame. In these same instances they have been absolved of all blame and in no way were connected with any of the goings on. In other affairs military personnel have definitely been in the wrong, apprehended and punished according to the severity of their lawlessness.

But it is not the latest crimes that we are complaining about at this particular time. They will take care of themselves. Rather it is the drunk and disorderly conduct of some of the soldiers visiting town, which seems to go unnoticed by the powers that be. True, the town of Wainwright has one policeman, but he can not be at all points at the same time. Nor do we expect him to cope with the situation entirely.

All services have their policemen to keep law and order when the offender happens to be a serviceman. In the navy it is Shore patrol, in the air force, Special Police in the Army, Military Police. No matter their name, their duty is pretty well the same. To keep order wherever and whenever they happen to be. We have found that a phone call to the military authorities will bring into town a crew of policeman large enough to quell a riot. But usually this is too late, for only in extreme circumstances will an offender stay around long enough to be picked up by the M.P.s.

On the other hand, if there were regular patrols made from 5:00 p.m. in the evening through to the next morning we feel that a large amount of petty annoyances could be overcome. In fact they would never start if there were ample military police available. Just the seeing of them every day would be enough to freeze rowdiness before it got underway.

The blame for such misgivings we are not levelling at any one particular place. For all we know there might be a M.P. patrol in Wainwright, but if this is the case we have never had the pleasure of seeing them. On the other hand the M.P. detachment at the local camp might be understaffed and in an unfortunate position which is beyond control.

Also, it might be necessary that the Town of Wainwright or its servant the local policeman, might have to requisition the extra help from the army before they will trespass on somebody else's rights. Wherever the blame lies we hope that somebody will take it upon themselves to put the matter right. We fully realize that what we are complaining about is very small, but a series of these small matters such as what has been going on during the past summer will tend to make a "Welcome" mat extremely thin and in time the mat might disappear. We don't want that. Wainwright has always been a friendly place and it is the aim of its citizens to keep it so.

YOUR CHANCE TO VOLUNTEER THIS WEEK

This week, October 18th on, is the chance that many people have been waiting for, because they know full well the advantages of the Blood Donor Campaign. Not that this is the week for the actual blood donations but rather just a week set aside for enrolment in the campaign when it visits the district in the near future.

The blood donor plan has been outlined many times before to the citizens of the Wainwright district. They need not be gone into again at this time. The giving of blood and storing it until needed is one of the most humane things that the people of the world can do. Wainwright is part of that world.

The actual giving of the blood at the time of the mobile clinic is painless. One doesn't know that anything is going on. The cheerfulness of the Red Cross workers and especially the nurses, helps make the room cheery and puts the patient at ease.

Wainwright has been noted for holding the noisiest clinic in Northern Alberta. The last visit made by the Red Cross Mobile Clinic was no exception. All the Red Cross personnel remarked on this. The place was filled with laughter and a buzzy hum. The Red Cross workers couldn't get over this. They exclaimed that this is so unusual, for in most points there is quite often a dead silence. This amazed the worker who showed a complete lack of fear and a whole-hearted support to the Blood Donor Clinic.

Alberta uses on the average of 800 quarts of whole blood a week. This is considerable in view of the fact that the amount taken from any one person never exceeds more than one pint.

Register this week and place your name on the list showing that the Wainwright district with its many healthy and strong persons, are behind the Red Cross Mobile Blood Clinic when it visits Wainwright sometime in the future.

Not so long ago, the local hospital here applied for and received blood from the blood bank in Edmonton. This was for a local person who today is alive and well. Without this blood being available in the quantities that were needed this party would be just a remembrance in the homes of her family and friends. All that the blood cost the patient was the express charge of 50c. Thanks to the people who donated blood at a blood donor clinic this service was available. Next time it might be you who needs the use of the Red Cross Service.

Won't you register and volunteer today. Phone 75 or 54 and give your name.

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

Canadians will soon know whether they can have margarine on their dinner tables instead of butter. Court sources say a ruling on the legality of the ban placed on the butter substitute 62 years ago may be handed down by seven Supreme Court judges Oct. 18.

The ruling will be the final answer to a unique court hearing when, for the first time in its history, the ban was placed squarely before Chief Justice Thibodeau Rinfret and six other red-robed judges. They heard argument from F. P. Varcoe, deputy minister of justice, representing the government; L. L. Beaulieu, representing the province of Quebec; J. M. Nadeau, appearing for L'Association Canadienne des Electriciens de Montreal; Senator A. Hayden, representing a group opposed to the prohibition; and Margaret Hyndman of Toronto, appearing for the Canadian Association of Consumers.

A Legal Issue
Briefly Mr. Varcoe argued that the ban comes within the jurisdiction of the federal parliament, because it embraces agriculture, criminal law and regulation of trade—all of which were granted to the central authority under the British North America Act.

On the other hand, Mr. Beaulieu said there can be no doubt the manufacture and sale of margarine should come under provincial jurisdiction because it comes within the scope of property and civil rights, a field in which the provinces are supreme.

Further, Mr. Nadeau said that the 62-year-old ban is equivalent to a "restraint of trade" against a lawful article of commerce which comes under the provinces. It was aimed at giving butter a commercial advantage.

Senator Hayden also agreed that it should also come under provincial competence. He termed margarine "a product of agriculture, and an article of trade." It was a product of agriculture because it was made from vegetable oils.

Miss Hyndman said the ban denied Canadian women their "legal right" to buy a nutritious food and legitimate article of trade. She said a "crisis" had risen in Canadian homes when butter went up to 75 cents a pound.

Affect on Butter
The big question, of course, is whether the Canadian butter industry will suffer if the Supreme Court decides that provinces can legally import, manufacture and sell margarine.

Once believed in government circles that this would be the case, the National Dairy Council, which after all is vitally concerned, said it would maintain a neutral attitude and made no representation in the three and-a-half day hearing.

It was evident, one council spokes man made known, that Canada cannot produce sufficient quantities of butter to meet the persistent high demand on domestic markets. For this reason the council called Trade Minister Howe's announcement of the importation of 15,000,000 pounds of butter to meet a possible crisis this winter.

And though at first the council said it may make representations to the government in view of the importation to eliminate the butter ceiling, reports now are that the council will not ask for the ceiling removal and accept current prices as reasonable.

Confederation Plans
A seven-man delegation from Newfoundland is in Ottawa preparing the ground for the confederation of the British colony with Canada next spring.

In Ottawa the delegates met Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent in the Senate and later discussed terms and definitions of union in private meetings with Canadian officials.

What actually went on behind closed doors in Ottawa still is not known. Mr. St. Laurent says there was an exchange of views on financial and legal problems. The meetings will likely continue during the next several weeks.

Unconfirmed reports are that the Newfoundland delegation asked for greater financial assistance than was offered in the preliminary terms of union laid down by Canada a year ago.

Under these terms Canada undertook to take over $85,000,000 of the island's $85,000,000 public debt and to extend to Newfoundland all existing federal services; pay the island to a transitional grant of $28,250,000 over a period of 12 years to assist in improving services which ordinarily come under provincial jurisdiction.

The $83,000,000 represents the amount it is estimated Newfoundland lent to build up her railway, steamship and other assets which Canada will take over.

Joe Rutledge Says

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

THE COMMUNIST LINE

Let the apologists for communism deny that, in action, it is a humours, harsh and unyielding absolutism. Freedom has no place under its shadow, neither freedom of action nor freedom of thought nor freedom of belief.

A Russian school teacher brings about an international incident. She wished to stay in the United States. For their own reasons Russian authorities decided to prevent it. Why did she wish to escape, even at the expense of her life? Why did the Soviet think it worth while to coerce so insignificant a citizen?

Professor Auto Zhebrak is a scion of internationalist parents. He had pioneered the belief that all hereditary characteristics are controlled by genes that are not subject to the influence of environment. His studies and his public pronouncements have influenced the forward thinking in this branch of science. But communism believes that environment is everything and determines everything. How then can a Russian scientist hold such views? The answer came quite recently. Anton Zhebrak publicly recanted the views he had given his life to propagating. "I do not consider it possible," he wrote, "for me to retain views which have been recognized as erroneous by the central committee of our party." To further the absence of science before expediency all text books have been ordered revised in line with the party policies on this subject.

Recently, the Archbishop of Canterbury stated that "in many lands there are communists who are practicing Christians." Quite possibly that is true, Anton Zhebrak could be a pure scientist outside of Russia or until the party thinking caught up with him. Possibly there are Christian communists even in Russia. But for how long? Within the last week or two the official army newspaper, "Red Star", that follows the party line, has announced its disagreement with such soft thinking. "A survival of religious faith in Russia," it charges, "is hampering the triumphal progress toward communism. It must be stamped out by systematic, scientific anti-religious propaganda." Does anyone believe that his statement is at variance with the thinking of Stalin, Molotov et al?

Communism, as a theory, is not contrary to science or education or Christian principles. As a fact it is a ruthless subjugation of all thought and all inspiration and all belief to the overriding will of men who have adapted principles to sordid uses.

PELICAN

As in many other communities, news sometimes hard to find. Everyone is doing the same today as yesterday. The same this week as last but sometimes things begin to happen and then there is lots of news.

The beginning of this week will see all the combining and shuffling cleaned up and once more the harvest will be over. Thanksgiving day came a week too soon for us.

There was quite a large turnout at the sale of John Shaver. We all wish John and Mrs. Brangrove happiness and success in their new home in Calgary.

We would also like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Alwood of Browning who, we understand will soon be moving on the Shaver farm.

Verda and Irene Aasen spent the long week-end visiting their parents Jeanette Cornfield also returned for the holiday.

The Empire and Pelican pupils had an especially long holiday as their teachers Miss Margit Greibek and Mrs. Margaret Challenger were attending the "Supervisor's Convention" in Wainwright on Thursday and Friday.

Farewell parties have been the order of the day recently. On Monday night last one was held in honor of Mrs. Brangrove and John Shaver at Prospect School.

Quite a number from this district attended the dance and social evening in Bloomington Hall for Henry Arneson and family, who will soon be leaving for the coast.

CONTRIBUTION OF FAREWELL BANQUET FOR SPENCER'S & SANDERS HELD PRIOR TO THEIR LEAVING

ancy as their representative at Ottawa where he was a member of the U.F.A. Possibly one of his greatest services in the educational field was his long term of office as chairman of the Wainwright School Trustees' Association.

The life of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders was recently full. Mr. Sanders' affiliations included the Wainwright school division, the Alberta Wheat Pool, the C.C.F. party, the Irma local of the Alberta Farmers Union, the Irma co-operative store, and for a time he held office in the carpenter's union.

Banquet chairman Ken Torg summed up the feeling of those who gathered to tender their bon voyage message: "It was simply spontaneous." He said, "I'm sure they're going to be a great success in their new home."

Representatives of educational, political and others of the many groups with which Mr. Spencer and Mr. Sanders were affiliated were among those attending. The best wishes of C.C.F. circles were voiced by Elmer Roper, leader of the party in Alberta.

W. E. Frame, superintendent of schools, delivered the message from educational circles and praised both men for their conscientious work. He had a word of praise for their wives who he said must have helped their men greatly in their achievements.

There were many other speakers, all representing groups in which the departing couples had taken some active part. These included Deputy Mayor Dr. Douglas Wallace, of Wainwright, Mayor R. Crane, of Edgerton, James (Jim) Jackson, of Irma, Dr. J. Bradley, for the Wainwright Board of Trade, Sigurd Lefrud, of Viking, Mrs. F. E. McLeod, Wainwright school board, Dr. W. Folkins, Chauvin and Andrew Wood, representative of the U.F.A.

Wall Kewen Writer L. D'Albertanson, editor of the Chauvin Chronicle, spoke in praise of Mrs. Spencer on behalf of the weekly newspapers in which her articles had often appeared.

Another speaker was F. E. Dixon, of the Wainwright divisional board and he recalled Mr. Spencer's assistance when the board was formed in 1911. Speakers also included Councilor R. N. Arthur of the Municipal District of Wainwright, William Gilbert, Edgerton, John Murray, Chauvin, Les Darby, Edgerton, Mrs. Arthur Patterson of Heath and Harry Rice, Edgerton.

Community singing also was enjoyed being led by L. W. Smith with Mrs. W. Clarke at the piano. Pleasant solos were given by Mrs. W. Egan, with Miss L. Bloom as accompanist.

Prior to the profusion of hand-clapping by both families, with their many friends Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Mr. Sanders expressed their thanks. There was a happy smile and healthy glow to Mr. Spencer's face as he looked over the large gathering and told of his full life working with his neighbors.

He expressed himself simply as he stated, "I am greatly pleased for this very fine thing you have done in saying goodbye to us." Mrs. Spencer also spoke briefly.

There was deep feeling as Mr. Sanden, on his own behalf and that of his family, said simply, "words fail me, but from the depths of my heart I say, 'goodbye' to you and your family. Thank you for your contribution to the Wainwright community."

FABYAN

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fabyan and family spent last week in Irma and Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Willette left our district last week having sold their farm here. Mr. Fabyan, district vice, sorry to see them go, but wish them the best of luck in their new home in the Wainwright district R.R. 1.

It looks as though storm windows are really getting a "dressing" and painting and put on for the winter that's just around the corner.

Pat Brisco and Ted Whitley left farm work and Fabyan on Wednesday to try the fields of Leduc for the winter. These boys have been over from Edmonton only a few days. A farewell party was held at the Fabyan home in their honor, and a good time was had by all. Good luck and best wishes go with them to their new work.

The Alberta Wheat Pool Elevator had a bit of repair work done over the week-end.

Mrs. Belle Headon and son Billy left by train on Tuesday to visit his sisters in Edmonton and St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson and son left Saturday by car for a holiday at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson and Dale were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. A. Kleinmeyer's. "A Wild Goose Dinner" too!

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fraser, Myrna and Gary were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tindall's. Mrs. Madler returned home Saturday night on the flyer from Edmonton much improved in health, having undergone a major operation and spending several weeks in the Royal Alexandra Hospital.

PELICAN

We had our first snowstorm for this fall on Friday, Oct. 15. With strong north winds and falling snow it was quite a blizzard while it lasted.

The dance at Pelican School was quite a success. There was a large crowd and good music and everyone seemed to have a grand time.

Paul Belik went to Edmonton on Friday and brought home a 1940 Dodge car.

Stan Murray of Paradise Valley visited in the district on Saturday. Harold Moseng has made quite an improvement on his house. He had it shingled and the roof reroofed.

Honore Belanger and Mrs. Paul Belik attended the Trustees' Convention in Wainwright.

Cecil and Betty Trigg went down to visit their folks at Cadogan on Sunday.

The two Triple children are now coming to Empire School.

While out in the field some time ago Harold Moseng noticed an owl hanging on the barbed wire fence. Upon further examination it was found the owl was hanging by an eyelid hooked on a barb. Its feet rested on a lower wire. After the bird was released, it was found to be alive and flew away quite normally.

McCafferty & Browning

On Sunday evening, friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer met at McCafferty Hall to say goodbye, and wish them luck and happiness in their new home. The people of McCafferty presented them with a purse. A highly entertaining program was enjoyed by all present. A large crowd gathered from far and near for Spencer's sale of the into the house recently vacated by the R. Spencer family.

First Aid Hints for DISLOCATIONS AND BRUISES

DISLOCATIONS:

A dislocation is the displacement of one or more of the bones of a joint. The joints most frequently dislocated are those of the shoulder, elbow, thumb, fingers and lower jaw.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS:

1. Pain of a severe sickening character at or near joint.
2. Loss of power in the joint.
3. Fixity of the joint. The limb cannot be moved at the joint either by the patient or by the First-Aider.
4. Deformity of the limb. The limb assumes an unnatural position, and is mis-shapen at the joint.
5. Swelling about the joint.

TREATMENT:

MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO REDUCE A DISLOCATION.

1. Steady and support the limb in the position which gives most ease to the patient, using padding where necessary in order to lessen the effects of jolting during transport.
2. Rest the patient on a couch or bed in the position which gives most ease.
3. If the pain is severe, expose the injured part and apply a cold compress.
4. When cold ceases to give comfort, apply a hot compress.

BRUISES:

A blow anywhere on the surface of the body may cause extensive capillary haemorrhage beneath the skin without breaking it—a "black eye" is an instance. The injury is accompanied by discoloration and swelling.

TREATMENT:

Apply pieces of lint soaked in equal parts of spirit and water, or a cold compress.

Rock Through Window Causes Excitement

A small hole in the plate glass window of Scotty MacPeden's Tailor shop on Main street Saturday night last caused quite a bit of excitement at the time of its happening. The incident occurred about 7:45 p.m. and several patrons of Scotty's were in his premises at the time.

On first reports it was thought that the hole in the window was made by a bullet fired from across the street. However, upon thorough examination of the premises no bullet was found and further investigation revealed that no gun report was heard.

Local investigating officers questioned several witnesses standing in front of the premises and also several sitting in cars close by. No one remembers hearing the report of a gun, although they remember hearing the shattering sound of the small glass break. It is presumed that the damage was caused by a rock being thrown up by the wheels of a passing car. This has been known to happen before, even in Wainwright.

Splendid Rally Held In Pentecostal Church

The Thanksgiving Day Rally consisting of afternoon and evening services in the above mentioned church was a day of blessing for all who attended. At 2:15 people began to arrive and by 2:30 the building was well filled. Visitors from Alliance, Amisk, Hughenden, Melinow and Irma joined in the services. Former pastors, Mr. and Mrs. Ophim, now of Clearholm were also present.

Pastor D. McNutt of Melinow led the afternoon song service. A group of young people from Alliance sang "You May Look For Me, For I'll Be There." Several of the visiting ministers gave a brief talk. Mrs. Ophim ministered the Word of God taking her text from Numbers 23:19 "God is not man, that He should lie; neither the son of man that He should repent: hath He said, and shall He not do it? or hath He spoken, and shall He not make it good?" The message was one of inspiration, much of what she said will long be fastened in the memory of the audience.

A tasty lunch was served in the basement of the church. A time of fellowship had passed quickly by when the evening service started at 7:30. Several instruments accompanied the piano in sacred song for ten minutes before the meeting started. Mr. Ophim led the service in song. One could not help but be uplifted in praise to God as the people raised and blended voices. For indeed, this was a special day of thanksgiving. A young man from Amisk sang a solo entitled "Ready." Moving pictures were then shown of the building of the church. These were followed by a trumpet solo. Two young ladies from Hughenden sang "Pray Till The Light Breaks Through." Pastor W. Lewis of Hughenden conducted a baby dedication when two infants were dedicated to God in prayer. Mr. and Mrs. McBride of Kenya Colony Africa, taken took charge. Before showing slides on their work Mr. McBride told of his remarkable and speedy release from the armed forces during the war, that he might go as a missionary to Africa. Mrs. McBride told of her forced furlough due to severe illness, telling also of God's healing touch upon her body in answer to prayer. They will sail again for Africa next spring.

The church was decorated with lovely samples of garden goods and grains grown in the district. Oct. 11, 1948, will be remembered as a day of "good things."

Start Work on New Chauvin School For Wainwright Division

Last week marked the beginning of a school building programme in the Wainwright School Division.

The excavating has been done for a new school in the Village of Chauvin and work is expected to proceed rapidly with the main structural work so that the building is ready for occupancy early in 1949.

The school is to be a one story structure 100 by 62 ft. There are four classrooms on the main floor and also a typing room and science laboratory. The primary room has extra space for activity work. There is also a teacher's room and a principal's office. Boys' and girls' toilets are on the main floor.

The basement has an eleven foot ceiling. In it is space for a temporary classroom, a lunch room and a shop.

The floor in one section of the basement is recessed 4 feet further into the ground to give an auditorium - gymnasium 35 by 60 ft. with a 14 ft. ceiling.

The building will have a modern water system with sewage disposal field.

The plan provides for future expansion should this be found necessary. When completed the school will be one that is able to give modern educational services.

At the present time pupils in Chauvin are being accommodated in three separate buildings, one of which has two rooms. Another temporary room is now being opened up in a church basement. The Divisional Board is to be congratulated for its decision to improve the educational opportunities for the Chauvin area.

The Board will now be able to turn its attention to long range plans for other schools throughout the Division.

English Journey

ARTICLE 12

I have not yet told anything about Blackpool, Lancashire, where we spent several days when we first arrived and again before we sailed.

Blackpool is one of the most popular resorts in England with a truly magnificent beach. It is essentially a place of amusement and has an enormous number of such things as penny arcades, and roller coasters.

It has one unique place of entertainment, The Tower, with theatre, aquarium, zoo, restaurants and a truly magnificent ballroom.

A cousin, Raymond Legge is assistant curator at the zoo and aquarium paying special attention to the aquarium, as he is a specialist in knowledge of fish. This aquarium is quite an attraction with wonderful displays of unusual live fish both large and small. There are about 30 different kinds of marine fish, about the same number of varieties of fresh water fish, about 40 different kinds of tropical fish, and the total number is impossible to count. There is one sturgeon that has been there for over fifty years.

The zoo has a large collection of live animals and birds. Blackpool is quite modern and has little to interest the antiquarian. We did however visit some interesting old places in the vicinity. Foulton-le-Pyde, only a few miles away has an interesting old church, and in the middle of the main street stands an old cross and the public stock.

Another day we took a bus to Manchester where there are many signs of bomb damage, and on to Salford which is a lovely old village situated in a beautiful section of Cheshire.

At Salford we were guests of an aunt of Mr. John Freeman, publisher of the Lakeshore News of Pointe Claire.

At Blackpool we were guests of three aunts, sisters of the late George Legge, of Granby, the eldest of whom celebrated her 90th birthday in July. They are all remarkably spry and accompanied us to Foulton-le-Pyde and on some other visits. Miss May Legge visited Granby forty years ago and has such vivid recollections of her trip that she was persuaded to write an account from memory which will
